ANNUAL CONFERENCE DETAILS:

This year's event will be unlike those in the most recent past. The SP-Foundation is sponsoring an annual conference bringing you together with representatives of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), a part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the nation's medical research agency, to discuss important discoveries to improve quality of health and life. The NIH is made up of 27 different components called Institutes and Centers. Each has its own specific research agenda, often focusing on particular diseases or body systems, and many people fighting HSP and PLS are under the umbrella of at least one of these Institutes.

Conference Fees are charged to cover the costs of the conference, including but limited to meals, room rental, audio-video equipment, videographers, and other expenses to conduct the conference. The fees charged are per registrants and do not actually cover all of the conference expenses; and therefore, SP-Foundation must sponsor the balance from donations received from donations and fundraisers. If you, your family, or your guests are attending the conference each person must register and pay the appropriate rate, so we may plan accordingly.
